

THE EARTHQUAKE OF ENGLAND

It all started when I was eating with my family when I heard our dog barking in agony , a few minutes later I felt the table shaking , it was obvious that a terrible earthquake had started.

THE EARTHQUAKE OF ENGLAND

We didn't know what to do in such a situation, so I ran into the nearest shelter to hide . I was so scared for my family and my future , all I heard was bricks and glass breaking apart .

When the earthquake ended , I rushed out of the shelter to find my family. There was nothing but ruins of our house which lowered the chances of there being life ,luckily for me they hid under the table last moment so they were unharmed

A SAFE PLACE

After that , we had no other choice but to flee to a safer country , so we abandoned our town and took an old tiny boat `till we reached Ireland . We walked while trying to find food, but at that moment I wasn't hungry , just glad that we were safe

I was sad that we lost our home but at least we found a map and actually got to a refugee camp. I never thought I was going to be a refugee but here I am, living in a refugee camp without knowing what's next....
